OTHER PROPERTY.

	1904	1905
	Amt.	Amt.
Bank Stock.....	$23,670	$21,825
Money at interest.....	43,075	49,605
Money on hand.....	250	750
Trust Co. Stock.....	500	1,500
Water Co. ".....	3,120	3,100
Electric Light Co. Stock.....	2,000	2,000
Stocks in trade.....	82,180	86,895
Bicycles.....	395
Carriages.....	3,895	2,850
Musical instruments.....	12,115	9,325
Grand Trunk Ry. property.....	1,000	1,000
Street Ry., and Electric Light Co.....	1,300	41,200
Water Company.....	20,250	20,250
Electric Light Co.....	39,900
Total.....	$233,650	$240,600

Bicycles have depreciated so much in value that we did not consider them worth listing this year. Musical instruments have been carried rather high on our valuation and growing of less value each year, especially organs, we have materially diminished this item. There is a reduction in one or two other cases but the total will be seen to be about $7,000.00 in excess of last year.

The Street Ry. and Electric Light Co. properties have merged together and are therefore both included under the head of Street Ry. and Electric Light Co., this year.

INMATES AT TOWN FARM JAN. 31, 1906.

Prentiss Buck.....age 55    David Holt.....age 55
Lola Bennett.....age 45

There was no question in the minds of the Overseers of the Poor, nor did there seem to be in the minds of the citizens whom they endeavor to serve, but that a change in the Superintendent at the farm was advisable last spring, and among several applicants for the position Daniel S. Davis of this town was selected. Mr. Davis assumed his duties April 1st, and his management for the 33 days of his stay there proved to our satisfaction that the good recommendations of those whom he had heretofore served in a like capacity were well merited, and we lament the sad misfortune which made it necessary for him to resign.

The vacancy thus caused by the resignation of Mr. Davis was filled by Thaxter B. Doughty of Greenwood, who has labored hard for the improvement of the farm, taking up the work so well commenced by Mr. Davis, and we have no hesitation in saying that we believe Mr. Doughty has managed prudently and labored faithfully. To be sure there is a balance against the farm nearly as large as that of last year, but with no timber to the credit of the farm and under all other circumstances we think he has made a good showing. The condition of the stock is especially satisfactory, with everything looking neat and thrifty about the barn and stable. That Mrs. Doughty is an excellent housekeeper was evidenced by the general condition of the house and everything in it. The trio of inmates appeared to be well cared for and happy.

The inside of the house is in fair repair. All that seems to be especially necessary is the laying of two new floors. Outside the buildings are getting where they need something laid out on them by way of repairs. They will soon need a coat of paint, and we now have on hand a supply of good cedar shingles which should be laid during the present year.

Just a word in reference to the farm inventory, which has been given another careful inspection, and while we cut it down some $400 last year, yet we felt that the values were still inflated, and therefore cut it about $275 more this year. It will be seen then that the farm inventory has been reduced during the past two years about $675, and as the gain or loss in inventory is each year included in the balance of the poor account, we have by this policy made that account to appear in rather an unfavorable light. It should be borne in mind that it makes $400 difference in the balance of poor accounts for the year, whether the farm inventory is increased $200 by placing abnormal values on collateral on the farm, or diminished by $200. The former policy makes the report read well, and unless careful the taxpayer is lead to think that the size of the inventory is the gage of the farm's prosperity, which may or may not be a correct conclusion, according to the values placed on the articles enumerated. We hope this particular phase of the farm and poor accounts may be thoroughly understood.

There has been more than the usual number of calls for assistance during the past year, and the amount expended for the poor off farm is therefore accordingly large.

The most expensive and perhaps the most perplexing case was that of Wm. C. Lemere and family, who from June 1st until Jan. 1st, demanded considerable attention and not a little expenditure of money. His proper residence was traced to the city of Lewiston, and Lewiston expects to pay the expenses.

We were somewhat disappointed when Mr. Cronin, clerk of the Overseers of the Poor for that city, informed us that they could not get around to pay the bill until about the middle of Feb., on account of the complexity of the city-machinery for paying such bills, but he assures us that the bill has been approved and will be paid.

All other bills for poor of other towns have been paid with the exception of Buxton, which is small.

Katherine L. Smith who formerly lived here, and whom many of our towns people will remember, fell in distress while living in Auburn, where she had been working for the last two or three years. She had been in ill health for some time and finally was taken to the Hospital of the Sisters of Charity where we paid $5.00 per week for care and treatment for the most of the time until her death, which followed a lingering sickness of several months. The case was carefully looked after by Mr. Dunn, who had occasion to be in Lewiston frequently during this time.

We have succeeded in getting reimbursement from the State in the cases of Esther E. Welch and Joseph A. Woods under the State pauper law.

The following letter recently received from Dr. Sanborn, Superintendent of the Maine Insane Hospital at Augusta, in response to our request for information, may be of sufficient interest to warrant us in quoting it in full, viz:—"I am in receipt of your letter of inquiry regarding the condition of Mrs. Esther E. Welch and Christina Bradbury. I desire to state that both have improved since they came to the Institution. Mrs. Welch is passing along very comfortably although a little unduly excited still. She is somewhat variable being for a while depressed, then passing over to a condition of excitement, but the intensity of the latter condition has seemed to abate and she exercises more self control. Should she remain as well until the weather of spring becomes more favorable I should say it might be well for you to offer her a trial outside of the Institution, provided she had a suitable place to live. Mrs. Bradbury is also exercising very much more self control than formerly but is still somewhat confused in her ideas and language yet not to the extent as at first admission. Neither one of them will fully recover their former mental vigor yet both may be sufficiently improved if you desire to offer them a trial when the season becomes favorable.

Very truly,

BIGELOW T. SANBORN, Superintendent."

We will add in the case of Mrs. Welch that her account at the Hospital has not been settled since last July. When she was taken to the Hospital she had with her about $30.00 in checks and cash which was taken into the custody of the Treasurer of that Institution, Manning S. Campbell, and we were informed that this money could be paid only to a legally appointed Guardian. Wm. F. Jones, Esq. was therefore immediately appointed, and a certificate of his appointment forwarded with a request that the funds be sent to the guardian, which they neglected to do.

Last spring two members of your Board of Overseers called at the Institution and took occasion to interview Mr. Campbell on this question, but he was too busy to give the matter any attention.

Both Mr. Jones and your chairman have written repeatedly to the Treasurer and also to the Superintendent, Mr. Sanborn. The former ignores our letters entirely, the latter assures us that the matter will be attended to. We understand that Mr. Jones also visited the Hospital during the past summer and that his efforts to obtain control of these funds were also unavailing.

We have therefore notified the Institution that until its officers shall satisfactorily account for these funds we shall withhold settlement for the support of Mrs. Welch.

TOWN FARM PROPERTY.

Farm valuation.....	$2,000 00
Farm inventory, personal property .....	1,998 11
Total.....		<hr/> $3,998.11

The year just closed has been an exceedingly prosperous one for the town, as partially indicated by the increased valuation of town property.

The appropriations for officers' salaries and support of poor were inadequate to meet the necessary expenditure under these accounts, which were somewhat larger than last year with $500.00 less money raised, and the overdraft is credited to the contingent fund.

There will be seen an article in the warrant relative to the funds received from the State on account of State road, which covering a period of two years gives us a surplus of nearly $400.00.

At the March meeting of 1904, we raised $400 00 for State road which was applied to its intended use, and after having received the approval of the County Commissioners, the State sent us the sum of $200.00, which we carried to the State road account and reported it last year as balance on hand.

It might have been charged into the contingent fund perhaps as consistently as in the case of refund on dog tax, railroad and telegraph tax, rent of armory, etc., but instead of doing so it was carried over.

Last March the town raised a like sum which was expended under the direction of Road Commissioner, Anson J. Militt, who has made a wonderful improvement on this piece of road, carrying it past the residence of C. A. Stephens to the top of the hill beyond.

The task of blasting out the solid ledge at this point necessitated quite an expense, and therefore a less distance was covered, but no one can doubt the permanent nature of this work. The County Commissioners had no hesitation in granting their approval, and we are just in receipt of the $200 from the State, to which we are entitled for 1905. This makes $399.97 now on hand, as there was .03 overdrawn this year, and the question for the town to consider when the article in warrant above referred to is taken up, is whether they will have this balance applied to build more State road, carried to the contingent fund, or applied to some other appropriation or use. Whatever is done with it, we think the same amount appropriated for the last two years should again be raised, as this is the only way we can get $200 from the State, which the town can apply wherever it sees fit.

We do not consider it our duty, nor this the time or the place to discuss the question as to whether public convenience and necessity required a street to be laid and built onto the "Tannery lot" so called. That matter was brought to the attention of the town at the last annual meeting in the regular manner, and the way as laid out by last year's Board of Selectmen was unanimously accepted.

Such streets and ways as have been accepted by the town and built in recent years have not carried any separate appropriation of money, but have been built from the general appropriation for highways and bridges and it did not apparently occur to anyone that it was necessary in this instance until it was time to execute the work. We then concluded that it would not be wise to attempt to infringe upon the Highways and Bridges appropriation to the extent necessary to build this street, and as it did not seem just or reasonable to deprive the public of its use for another year, it was determined to draw upon the Contingent Fund, which for three years has been so abnormally large that no appropriation therefor has been necessary, and now has a balance of nearly $1000. We regret that the work could not have been completed earlier in the season, as no doubt some expense might have been saved thereby, but Road Commissioner Wood, who had charge of the work, was delayed in various ways, not only in getting started, but during its progress, labor being one of the most serious problems.

The Canton Bridge Co., of Canton, Ohio, furnished the bridge which we believe is first class in every particular, and we fear the price will be hard to duplicate. This bridge, if looked after as it should be will last as long as the abutments will hold it in place.

The street signs posted during the past year were painted by C. A. Young at a cost of 50 cents each, and probably there has been no money expended from the Public treasury for the year that has such unanimous approval.

In submitting this our annual report, it has been our endeavor to give to the citizens a plain, full and accurate statement of all municipal accounts for the fiscal year just closed, and nothing essential to this end has been omitted unless by oversight.

We desire to thank the citizens of Norway, for the generous treatment accorded us during the entire term of our service and the best wish we can extend to our successors is, that their relations with the various town officers and with the people may be as cordial as ours have been.

The Board of Health most respectfully call the attention of householders to the law in reporting cases of contagious diseases. Chapter 123, Sec. 10.—Whenever any householder knows or has reason to believe that any person within his family or household has smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, cholera, typhus or typhoid fever, he shall within twenty-four hours give notice thereof to the health officers of the town in which he resides, and such notice shall be given either at the office of the health officer, or by a communication addressed to him and duly mailed within the time above specified, and in case there is no health officer, to the secretary of the local board of health either at his office or by communication as aforesaid.

An Act amendatory of and additional to chapter one hundred and twenty-three of the Public Laws of 1887, relating to the Public Health, Sec. 2.—Cases of cerebro-spinal meningitis, of measles, of so called membranous croup, of whooping cough, and of pulmonary tuberculosis, or consumption, as it is commonly termed, shall be reported promptly to the local board of health of the town in which cases of this disease occur; and it shall be the duty of any household who knows or has reason to believe that any person in his family or household has any of these diseases, and it shall be the duty of any physician who knows or has reason to believe that any person whom he attends or is called to visit, is affected with any of these diseases, to report the same to the local board of health.

Any household or physician failing to report said case, shall be guilty of misdemeanor; and, upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine not more than fifty dollars.

It is required by State law that the annual written report of the Superintendent of Schools shall treat of "the condition of the schools for the past year, the proficiency made by the pupils, and the success attending the modes of instruction and government thereof;" and such report should also contain recommendations for continued future advancement.

For several years there has been continuous effort on the part of Superintendent and teachers to systematize the work of the pupils, and secure a regular progression along the lines of development that leaders in educational work in all parts of our land have proved best adapted to the training of children. It is the belief of your Superintendent that there should be never a halt from the day the little one is first taught to take his place as one of a school, to the day he takes his place to receive his diploma of honorable graduation from the high school.

Other men in the history of education have decided what are the paths most likely to lead to success, and the selection and grading of text books, the quality and quantity of material put in the hands of the pupils and the choice of instructors, so far as the means at the command of your Superintendent will allow, have been governed by the constant aim to secure this uninterrupted progress for our pupils, in the paths the wise ones have recommended.

When a new text book has proved its superiority in trained hands elsewhere, we have gradually introduced it in Norway schools, while we continue in most cases to hold fast that which is good. And firmly believing that Reading, Writing, Spelling and a knowledge of his native tongue is the foundation on which mental growth is to be established, if established at all, these, the rudimentary branches of education, have received the most encouragement and careful attention.

The variety and choice of the reading matter in the hands of our pupils is a theme that the Superintendent discusses with satisfaction and commends to the consideration of parents.

Our pupils read in class work three times the quantity of matter that they did in 1899, and a weakness in a textbook in reading displaces the book from our course, as soon as discovered.

In writing we have at last found a copy that conforms most nearly to the general desire, and still is proving most teachable.

Spelling, the hardest branch to teach to the average boy, is to-day the branch in which we are least proficient, but where comparison is possible, the children of our grammar grades seem to excell the children of the same grades of years ago, as the comparison of the test papers of the grammar grade children of the city of Springfield written sixty years ago, with that of the grammar grades of that city in 1905 conclusively shows. And the results of teaching English Language and grammar from the text books introduced in our schools in 1903, satisfy us that the texts in use are good ones.

In the past year no radical changes have been made in our modes of instruction, rather a steady continuation of insistence on the well established processes, with the only noticeable breaks occurring when some teacher fails to come up to the requirements of her position and is quietly displaced, or some excellent teacher who is far ahead of our requirements as quietly betakes herself to a more remunerative field.

It seemed to Committee and Superintendent this year that the time had come when our pupils could stand the test of a uniform public examination for entrance to high school, and a set of questions was prepared, and papers written thereon, on June 10th last, by the pupils of Norway who were supposed to be ready for high school work.

Thirty-one pupils at that examination secured the requisite rank, and there has never in the history of our high school been an entering class who went through the first term of high school work with a smaller percentage of deficiencies. The record of the present entering class is particularly gratifying, for of the 31 who entered on that test but two failed to secure the pass-mark, both in one of their four studies, namely Algebra, and one in Latin.

All who were ever students know what an almost entirely negligible quantity this percentage of deficiency is.

The pass-mark in our high school today means 70 per cent. of excellence, and that all but two of the entering class succeeded in securing that rank, and they failing in so small a fraction of their work is sufficient report on the success attending our modes of instruction in our common schools.

By the resignations of Miss Emery, Miss Eastman and Miss Griffith in the village schools a great gap was made in our line of teachers. The situation in Paris rendered available a teacher of solid worth who was once one of our school children, Miss Iva L. McArdle.

Miss McArdle had taught drawing and music in the village schools of South Paris and in schools in Massachusetts, and by engaging an assistant for her, to teach each afternoon Miss McArdle has been enabled for the last two terms to teach grade seven in the fall and grade eight in the winter and supervise the instruction in drawing and music in the grades above the third. The work of our pupils in drawing and music has not only not interfered with progress in their other studies, but has improved the schools to a degree, in this, that the school work has been more cheerfully and heartily done from the fact there was added to the daily routine that which made labor a pleasure.

Parents who have seen the class-room work will bear me out in the statement that the instruction under Miss McArdle's management has been altogether valuable, and so far as I can ascertain none who have made inquiry would have the instruction in these arts taken from the children. The additional cost is very slight.

Miss Harlow in the fifth grade and Miss Wheeler in the seventh are accomplishing all that can be asked of them.

The work of the high school is become the sober business of young men and young women who realize that they are working for themselves under circumstances peculiarly favorable. The chill attendant on the passing of a beloved teacher, Mr. Charles B. Thompson, has passed, and our pupils who were fortunate enough to have a year of intercourse with that sterling man will think of him as the model teacher. As a town we were fortunate in having on the spot last September our present principal, Mr. P. E. Hathaway; and the assistants secured last fall proved of highest worth.

The work of the school has been cheered by the excellent reports that have returned to us from the boys who entered higher fields of learning from the class of 1905.

The request of parents that the class of 1905 be given their diplomas without public services, that they might take a graduate trip to our capital city, was granted by the Committee, and on June 9, 1905, at the high school building their diplomas were presented to

G. Frank Barron,	Albion L. Buck,
Marjorie Buswell,	Hattie L. Crooker,
Leonie D. Gilbert,	Guy R. Harriman,
Evelyn M. Hazen,	Winfield A. Kimball,
Alice M. Libby,	Harriet C. Oxnard,
Don S. Smith,	Carl E. Stone,
Esther L. Tower,	Clark G. True,
Tena C. Tubbs,	Robert I. Wood.

The Don C. Seitz prize for excellence in course was awarded to Harriet C. Oxnard.

The present graduating class propose to present graduating exercises of the good old fashion at Norway Hall at the close of the year.

In the rural districts the parents show most commendable interest in the doings of their children while at school and the pupil's work is supplemented in many neighborhoods by so-called club meetings.

Most worthy of mention perhaps is the work of the Holt School Improvement League.

At that school house, parents and pupils have finished paying for an organ that cost them $31.12; have purchased a valuable revolving chair for the teacher's use; have hung on the wall of the room a beautiful portrait of our first president; have purchased window shades and sash curtains, and four men gave a half day's work and cleared the bushes from the yard and placed substantial posts and a rail along the rear of the school lot. Forty-three dollars and eighty cents have been raised and expended by this League since its inception, besides the labor mentioned above, and it goes without saying that the pupils here work the more heartily at their tasks when they realize the deep personal interest their parents take in their welfare and progress.

Other demands upon his time have deprived the Superintendent of the pleasure of assisting in instruction quite so amply this year as in some former years, and it will please some of the citizens to learn that the expense of supervision for the school year of 1905 will not exceed $250 and actual horse hire.

In only one term, in one rural district, has the Superintendent been unable to make the number of visits required, and he has made 197 visits so far this year as against 217 in the same time last year.

Schools in several other towns in the State have been visited to secure our present force of teachers, and if Norway can average in future as good a corps of teachers as those in her graded and high schools at this time, she will be a fortunate town.

With thanks for support and courtesies at the hands of committee and citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES P. BARNES,

Superintendent of Schools.

Norway, Jan. 31, 1906.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Superintending school committee of Norway, Maine, organized March 7, 1905, by the election of Mr. George E. Tubbs, chairman, the other members being Mr. Herman L. Horne, member for three years, and Mr. John A. Roberts member for one year.

The vote of the committee for Superintendent of schools was for Charles P. Barnes. Practically the same duties as in former years were delegated by the committee to the Superintendent.

The sums available for the support of the school department have been expended as follows:

A credit allowance for worn out books in exchange amounting to $23.70 has been deducted by the publishers of whom we have purchased, leaving net cost of books as above stated.

Bills unpaid amount to about $90 for text books, $40 for supplies ordered this term, and $75 for the Tiffany Industrial Cabinet, which is payable on May first next.

Some instruction has been given our pupils for years past in drawing and music.

Our teachers have carried these subjects as far as they could. For the past two terms Miss McArdle has supervised and extended the work in these subjects. She has given two lessons in drawing each week in each grade above the third, and one in music.

The results have been so satisfactory that we unanimously recommend an appropriation of $300 to continue this instruction in all schools of the town, where the enrollment numbers more than 25 pupils.

As the item for insurance reported above shows we expended $68.55 for insurance in 1905. This year it is estimated that $150 will be required for insurance, and we are obliged to ask for an increased appropriation under this head.

Your committee has decided that the town cannot afford to train teachers and then let other towns hire them out from under us for a slight raise in wages, so that to keep our most excellent teachers we have paid in a few instances a little more per week as the table appended to the Superintendent's report shows.

The only rural school maintained the past year, which registered a less number than required by law is the Yagger school, and owing to its location we recommend that the town authorize a school in that neighborhood this year.

We recommend that the town raise for the ensuing year a sufficient sum to secure satisfactory teachers for all the schools, and For Free Text Books.....$650

Repairs.....$400

Insurance, apparatus, appliances, etc.....$550
